The Police and Crime Commissioner for Lincolnshire

Quarterly Force Performance Update – July 2015

Foreword from the Police and Crime Commissioner for Lincolnshire

A key aspect of my role as your Police and Crime Commissioner is to hold the Chief Constable to account. I am committed to reporting results back to you, and I will publish information about how well the Force is performing on a quarterly basis through my website, available at: www.lincolnshire-pcc.gov.uk/Policy/Performance.aspx.

From the performance statistics detailed in this document, you can assess how well Lincolnshire Police is performing in key areas such as reducing crime and anti-social behaviour, solving crime, how satisfied victims are with the services they receive and how confident people are with the police service in Lincolnshire. I will also highlight areas of performance that are exceptionally good and also those areas that need further work.

In this period there has been a 1.3% reduction in all recorded crime. This means there have been 116 fewer victims of crime compared to the same period last year. House burglary is also showing a reduction of 14.9% (76 fewer crimes this year compared to last). Data from the last five years shows that all recorded crime, burglary and violence against the person (with injury) are also all declining over the long term.

Anti-social behaviour (ASB) incidents also continue to decrease with 549 (9.5%) fewer incidents this period compared to the same period last year. Year on year, we are seeing fewer incidents of ASB in our communities. Lincolnshire Police is committed to reducing ASB by working closely with partner agencies to identify incidents at an early stage, listening to local people to understand the issues and providing tailored support to victims and perpetrators. The approach to managing ASB in Lincolnshire ensures that community priorities are tackled effectively.

The latest resolution¹ figures show that Lincolnshire Police is recording a rate of 31.3% for all crimes, 12% for burglary dwelling crimes and 48.6% for violence against the person with injury crimes. The Chief Constable is implementing a plan to improve the quality of investigations and setting up a Board with a long term plan to improve investigative performance.

I continue to closely watch the overall user satisfaction and 'kept informed' performance figures. Work is ongoing to improve performance in this area with some encouraging signs being reported in the monthly figures for overall user satisfaction (nearly 85% for June 2015). ASB victim satisfaction will form part of the new multi-agency 3 year ASB delivery plan and be incorporated into the existing crime victim satisfaction work. I look forward to seeing improvements in this area.

The number of people who have been killed or seriously injured (KSI) on our roads is reported on a calendar year basis. For the 5 months, January – May 2015, the number of KSIs has decreased by 28.7% (119 fewer KSIs) this calendar year compared to last.

I am also including a number of specific case study highlights from the Force (covering the period April - June 2015). I hope that these provide some additional detail in support of the plain numbers and percentages. These examples show just some of the good work that the Force has carried out in upholding the law, protecting the public and bringing offenders to justice.

I will issue my next quarterly update in October 2015, covering the period from April 2015 – September 2015. You can find local crime rates and trends via the crime mapper website available at www.police.uk.
